

Concerned about suicide

What are the warning signs?

Most people who feel suicidal don't really want to die, they just want an end to their pain. These are some of the signs which may indicate that someone is thinking of taking their life:

- A suicide attempt or act of self-harm
- Expressing suicidal thoughts
- Preoccupation with death
- Depression
- Becoming isolated
- Alcohol abuse
- Drug abuse
- Sudden changes in mood or behaviour
- Making 'final' arrangements, eg giving away possessions (such as books, CDs, DVDs)

Note: Some of these warning signs can be associated with everyday behaviour. You should look at the overall picture for the person you are concerned about. However, the more warning signs and associated risk factors, the higher the possible risk.

Associated risk factors

- Access to a method of suicide, eg medication, firearms
- Loss of someone close (such as a friend or family member)
- Relationship break-up
- Impulsiveness, recklessness and risk-taking behaviour
- Alcohol/drug abuse

How to respond

If you are concerned about someone you can follow these three steps:

Show you care

Offer support and let them know you care. Say something like:

'I'm worried about you and I want to help'

'What's up? I'm very worried about you'

'Whatever's bothering you we will get through this together'

Ask the question

Don't be afraid to discuss suicide – asking about it won't put the idea in people's heads:

'Do you feel like harming yourself?'

'Do you feel like ending your life?'

'Are you so down that you just want to end it all?'

Call for help

Encourage them to look for help:

'Let's talk to someone who can help'

'I will stay with you until you get help'

'You're not alone and there are people who can help you out of this situation'
